

COPYCAT PRIZE WINNER ANNOUNCED – CopyCatFun.

com is a website where people may find ways to be positive role models to children in a variety of interactive ways. Participants can earn points and win prizes related to healthful behaviors. Pictured above is the first prize winner Elijah DeWitt and his mother Abby DeWitt, shown with their prize basket. The Just Like You positive role-modeling campaign was created to remind adults of the impact they have on children. “Make sure that your ‘little copycats’ see positive behaviors to mimic,” said Sandy Miller, prevention supervisor at the Garrett County Health Department. “So many kids received mixed messages about tobacco, alcohol, and other drug use. We want to help you model positive, healthy behaviors.” Just Like You! is sponsored by Garrett County Community Action, board of education, and the health department, and is partially funded by the Behavioral Health Administration and Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.
